

"Rebel Without A ... Clue"

BY PAT/SALTY

Beware of Rebels Without A Clue.

They are the opposites of Rebel Without A Cause (of James Dean fame) you all know the types.

They Rebel Against All Authority, All Rules, Basically Against Everything. What is it they believe in?

Basically, Rebellion in General. In other words, they believe in nothing.

Because True Rebels (Not Posers)

use Rebellion as a means to an end.

To these posers, to these Rebels Without A Clue, Just Being Rebels is the end in itself. And that's just plain ignorant.

Beware of these types.

And types are what they are.

Such "Rebels" talk and play and dress the part of Rebel as if they are acting full time in some stupid movie or something. They don't stand for anything so much as just being Rebels for its own sake. Which is like soldiers fighting and killing not for any cause but just to be soldiers. Dumb! Pointless!

Clueless. Just like such Rebels are, without a clue. Imagine, if you will, a football team that ran and hit and tackled week after week not for a cause (to win a championship or to win a Super Bowl) but just in order to be a football team; this is what Rebels Without A Cause and without a clue do. So avoid such types; they're a waste of time. X
